

SMART SET TO BE IN FETE AT FRIENDSHIP

Many Attractions Offered in Benefit for Washington Diet Kitchen Association.

Members of the smart set will take prominent parts in the fete at Friendship tomorrow for the benefit of the Washington Diet Kitchen Association. A dog show, which will open at 2 o'clock, will be the first feature of the festivities. A sham battle, in which troops from Fort Myer will take part, will follow. The next number will be a May pole dance, in which the girls of the other schools will be reproduced. One of the most interesting features will be the cabaret, beginning at 5 o'clock. Master Lewis Smith will open with a topical song and dance, and will be followed by the Moment musical, in which Misses Eud Simms, Minnie Saxton, and Elizabeth Jenkins will appear prominently. Miss C. Little and Master Hamilton will give the synchronized waltz, and Miss Minnie Saxton and Raymond Hain will give a demonstration of the cello and piano. An exhibition of the fox trot and the hesitation one step will be given by Miss Dorothy Pecker while Fairbanks and Washburn will show a typical French cabaret. Miss Hendricks and Henry Dixon will dance the Pavlova Gavotte. A competition one step and fox trot dance will begin at 8. Contestants will include members of the smart set. The judges will be Preston Gibson, J. Henri de Shour, Hugh Legare, and George Howard. A gold violin box and gold cuff links will be the prizes. During the afternoon and evening cigarettes will be sold by prominent society women.

LION KNOCKS TRAINER DOWN AND CLAWS HIM

Carl Wilson Bitten on Arm and Eye Is Almost Torn Out By Angry Beast.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Carl Wilson, an animal trainer, whose home is in Cincinnati, was severely injured in Jersey City when Prince, one of a quartet of lions with a circus, leaped at him. Wilson was bitten on the arm, one of his eyes was almost torn out and his face was badly lacerated by the animal's claws. Wilson was putting the lions through their paces in a big steel cage. For the first few minutes after he entered the cage everything went well, the lions obeying his orders without hesitation. Suddenly Prince leaped forward to a corner and refused to come out. Wilson went after the lion and before he realized what had happened the animal trainer was thrown backward, his head striking the floor of the cage as Prince leaped at him. The lion grasped Wilson's upraised left arm in his jaws, but released his hold as he jumped over the prostrate man, his claws tearing Wilson's face. Attendants, armed with pitchforks, rushed up and drove Prince into a corner, keeping the other lions in another corner of the cage while the trainer escaped the door and permitted Wilson to escape. Wilson was taken to a hospital, and it will be a week before he will be able to resume his work. This is the third time Prince has attacked Wilson, who is the seventh animal trainer the lion has clashed with during his captivity.

Poultry Club Seeking Hall For Next Show

Confronted with the lack of a hall of suitable size for their exhibition, the National Capital Poultry and Pigeon Association is searching for quarters in which to hold its next show. At a meeting last night in the Public Library the fact that none of the buildings now available in Washington have sufficient floor space for such an exhibit was emphasized. Roy H. Walter, president of the association, announced that the organization expects 5,000 entries in the next show. W. A. Frank, vice president, announced that the show committee had decided to hold the next exhibition on January 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22. It was decided that the following small shed at suitable hall for the next show and report at the next meeting: J. H. Holmden, W. E. Tilt, J. H. Davis, W. A. Kiefer, R. E. Lee, C. V. Allen, Louis Kinsinger, and Harry Lamon.

Dr. C. W. Hippen, of Jernyn, Pa., graduate of the Veterinary College of George Washington University, and a breeding expert, read a paper on "Double Mating and Breeding of Rhode Island Reds."

2 Drops of "GETS-IT," Out Comes the Corn!

It's the World's Wonder; Never Fails. You'll make gro-gon eyes at your feet, after you use "GETS-IT" and you'll find the places where those blisters come used to be, just as smooth as your cheek.

How Wide Is a "GETS-IT" Smile? Well, a Good Deal. There's no corn calling among the millions of feet in the world that "GETS-IT" will not remove—there's no escape. "GETS-IT" is the new way, the simple, common-sense, sure way. It does away with greasy ointments, salves, pads, cotton tines, harnesses, knives, saws, razors, files, and the blinding and painful pigeon-toe walk of so many corn-plagued people. All you do is put 2 drops of "GETS-IT" on the corn, rub it up and—good-bye! Nothing else in the world like "GETS-IT." Millions are using it. There's no pain, no trouble, no itching, no burning, no blisters, no chapping, no cracking, no corns.

"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. Sold in Washington and recommended as the world's best corn cure by J. J. Bennett's Drug Stores, People's Drug Store, and Affleck-Advt.

Dean of Canterbury Refuses to Abstain

Leads Clergy of Lower House in Declining To Take Pledge.

LONDON, April 30.—The Dean of Canterbury flatly refused to swear off drinking intoxicants, he declared at a meeting of the clergy of the lower house of Canterbury. He had tried it before, he said, and found it a failure in that it impaired his health. The other clergymen said they were willing to set the nation an example in temperance, but were not willing to abstain entirely from alcohol. This was the subject of the conference, which passed a resolution "inviting the clergy and laity of the Church of England to set an example of self-sacrifice in the matter of alcoholic liquors." Several members voted only after being assured that total abstinence was not expected of them.

BOY PICKS UP 5,000 PENNIES IN STREET

Thousands Scorn Bag Dropped By Bank Messenger In Brooklyn Highway.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Five thousand pennies had got to be a lot for half an hour in Brooklyn. Thousands of persons passed the bag in Court street, but it remained for Joseph Poirer, fifteen, to discover the copper mine. He kicked it curiously and it jingled a dull jingle. He picked it up. It was some weight. He looked at it, saw it was real money, and then called Policeman O'Keefe. The bag, accompanied by Joseph and Patrolman O'Keefe, went to the station house. The reserves were put to work counting it. They counted 5,000. A half hour later a representative of the National City Bank of Brooklyn called and claimed it. He said one of the bank's youthful messengers had lost it.

Crooks Leaving Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 30.—The initial step in the campaign of the new chief of police, Charles C. Healy, to rid Chicago of crooks, resulted in twenty men being locked up by a raiding squad of forty-five picked detectives. Crooks were reported to be leaving the city before the raiders had visited half of the underworld neighborhoods marked for the general clean-up.

When Glands Swell Blood Needs Attention

Even a Sweat Gland May Result in Severe Consequence.

In our intricate body the use of S. S. S. for the blood has a most remarkable influence. We little realize our glandular system. It may be a tiny bulb no bigger than a pin point and yet it is a disease germ gets into it, there is a tremendous swelling. It becomes a boil, a carbuncle, it may be a "blood rising," and it is often a source of continuous misery if not checked. Many of the most excruciating forms of torture begin with the swelling of a tiny gland, caused by a disease germ. And it is S. S. S. that spreads throughout the blood circulation to prevent just such conditions. Or if they have already started, S. S. S. will soon put the blood in such a state of health as to overcome the tendency to glandular swellings. It is a natural medicine for the blood, just as essential to health if the blood be impure, as are the meats, fats, grains and sugars of our daily food. It contains one ingredient the active purpose of which is to stimulate the exchange of new flesh for dead or wasted tissue. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist, and if your case is stubborn, write to the Medical Adviser, The S. S. S. Co., 10 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. This department is in charge of a noted physician.

GENERAL DEVOL TO MANAGE RED CROSS

Member of Quartermaster's Staff Has Long Record for Efficient Relief Work.

Brig. Gen. Carroll A. Devol, of the Quartermaster corps, United States army, will become general manager of the American National Red Cross tomorrow. His appointment was announced today. He is considered one of the ablest of the army quartermasters, and is widely experienced in relief work. A native of Ohio, General Devol's military career began at the age of twenty as a second lieutenant in infantry. This was in 1870. Since then he has served in many responsible posts as quartermaster, depot quartermaster general and acting quartermaster general, and mounted in rank to a brigadier generalship. He served on the general staff from August, 1905, to June, 1908. During the relief work following the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 he was depot quartermaster there. Later he was quartermaster at Panama.

See Many Sun Spots.

ST. LOUIS, April 30.—Twenty-five sun spots, covering a solar area estimated at 300,000 square miles, were reported by observers at Christian Brothers College here. The largest spot, it was said, was 20,000 miles in diameter.

More Carnegie Gifts.

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—The announcement of an additional gift of $2,700,000 to Carnegie Institute and the Technology School by the founder, Andrew Carnegie, was the feature of founder's day at Carnegie Hall.

Seeking Jail As Cure For His Drink Habit

NEW YORK, April 30.—Oliver J. Lakeman voluntarily walked into special sessions court and asked Judge Wadhams to send him to prison. He said his life was a failure because he couldn't give up drinking. About a year ago he was arrested for forgery and pleaded guilty. Judge Wadhams, after giving him some advice, suspended sentence on him. A year then gave him employment, but drink got the better of him and he held his job only a few days. Judge Wadhams had a heart-to-heart talk with Lakeman, and finally agreed that the prisoner was unable to care for himself, and sent him to Sing Sing for two years. Lakeman thanked the judge, and said he felt that he would at last be cured of his taste for drink.

ALIENISTS TO EXAMINE YOUNG GIRL BURGLAR

Child Who Confessed to Series of Robberies Puzzles Scientists.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Twelve-year-old Lillian Fark, convicted of burglary, today was turned over to alienists who believe her case one of the most puzzling in child criminology. Lillian is small for her age. She wore a middy blouse in court and her skirt just reached to her knees. School teachers testified she was unusually bright and well behaved, but detectives swore she confessed to an amazing series of night robberies. At one house, detectives testified, Lillian forced a cellar window while the occupants were asleep and ransacked the lower floors, carrying off rugs, lace and curtains. Her parents, awaiting grand jury action on the charge of receiving stolen goods, denied the little girl brought the loot home.

AMERICAN ACADEMY FACES BIG PROBLEMS

Representatives of National, Civic, and Trade Bodies Meet in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30.—Speakers from all sections of the United States gathered here today to attend the nineteenth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. The sessions which will continue through tomorrow will partake of the nature of a national conference to consider the important problems now confronting the United States, which have arisen because of the European conflict. Delegates appointed by the governors of many states in the Union, and representatives of the national, civic and trade organizations will also be present. The meeting has all the earmarks of being the most important national meeting that has been held since the outbreak of the European war. The topics which will be discussed at today's sessions will be: "American Industry and Labor as affected by the European War," "International Trade of the United States as affected by the European War," and "American Neutrality and the European War." Among the persons of national reputation who will participate in the discussion are Secretary of Commerce Redfield Proctor, U. S. A., Frank A. Vanderlip, City Bank, John Hays Hammond, Henry Bruce Chamberlain, John H. Payne, U. S. A., Morgan Shuster, E. E. Pratt, Charles S. Hamlin, James A. Farrell, and Jane Addams.
